DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 50, 51, 53-88, 95, 140, 142-145, drawn to a means of treating or diagnosing the intestinal tract, classified in class 600, subclass 593.
- II. Claims 108-127, drawn to a method of treating an intestinal tract, classified in class 607, subclass 40.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination II has separate utility such as providing a treatment to a previously diagnosed condition. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: a Sensor (claims 61, 69-75, 77-80); an Electrode (Claims 62-68); a means of Treatment (Claims 81-84); and a Sampling Device (Claim 76).

Furthermore, if the Applicant chooses the Sensor, a further species election has to be made by choosing one of the following sensors: Pressure (Claim 69); Optical (Claim 70); pH (Claim 71); Strain (Claims 72 and 73); Temperature (Claim 74); and Chemical (Claim 75). If the Applicant chooses the Electrode, a further species election has to be made by choosing one of the following sensed electrical parameters: Impedance (Claim 63); Electrical Potential (Claim 64); Pacesetter Potential (Claim 65); Inherent Spike Bursts (Claim 66); Induced Pacesetter Potential (Claim 67); and Induced Spike Burst (Claim 68). If the Applicant chooses the Treatment, a further species election must be made by choosing one of the following treatments: Therapeutic Agent Delivery Device (Claim 82); Electrically Stimulating Electrode (Claim 83); and a Marker (Claim 84). The species are independent or distinct because they constitute divergent subject matter, as well as being classified in different areas.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
